Section 5: English language competence

You will need to demonstrate that you meet our English Language requirements before you arrive.

The minimum requirement for entry as an Erasmus, Exchange or Visiting student at undergraduate level is B2 level in the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) in the four components – reading, writing, speaking and listening.

All non-native speakers are required to demonstrate that they have achieved this level.

If you require a Student Visa:

Your English qualification must be from the UK Visas and Immigration list of approved English language tests, and has to be taken within two years of the start date of your studies here at Bath.

If you require a Standard Visitor Visa:

We will need the results of any English exams you have taken previously. A list of accepted qualifications can be found here.

If you do not have a test accepted by the University of Bath, you will need to include a formal letter from your home university attesting to your English language level. This letter must state the following information:

- Your overall CEFR level
- Your CEFR level in each of the four components – reading, writing, speaking and listening
- The method of assessment/test taken to confirm your CEFR level
- The date when you took the assessment/test (this must be within the last 12 month from the date of your application)

You will then also need to send a sample of your academic written work and take part in a language interview with a member of staff from the University of Bath.

Section 7: Your proposed study programme

Credits

Bath uses the European Credit Transfer System (ECTS). You must take between 24-30 ECTS credits each semester.

At least 12 credits per semester must be from your host department. This is the department where our agreement is held with your home institution.

You can then choose a maximum of 12 credits from outside your host department.

Choosing your units (classes)

For the School of Management, you can find details of available units here.

For all other departments, you can find the unit catalogue here – select the correct academic year and host department from the menu and then click “index of units”.

Choosing your units (classes)

The catalogue is updated in April each year. If the catalogue is not available for your academic year when you need to apply, please use the catalogue from the previous year. We will tell you if you need to make any changes to your proposed study programme.

What's Available

Units at the levels Certificate, Intermediate and Honours are usually available to Erasmus, Exchange or Visiting students.

English language units for native and non-native speakers and British Studies units are offered exclusively for Erasmus, Exchange and Visiting students. These can be taken for academic credit (within the 12 credits allowed outside your host department) or as extra (non-credit bearing) classes.

Units which are not available are:

- units from postgraduate master's and doctoral degree programmes. These are marked master's or doctoral and level code 5 or 6 in the unit catalogue e.g. ME50327 (You can take units marked master's level code 4).
- certificate level units taught by the School of Management (codes beginning MN1) unless they are classified as "generally available units" in the unit catalogue.
- certificate and intermediate level units taught by the Department of Mechanical Engineering (unit codes beginning ME1 and ME2)
- SP30281 and SP30284, Sociology Dissertation and Social Policy Dissertation respectively, offered by the Department of Social & Policy Sciences.
- PL20424, Introduction to English language teaching

Things to remember when making your choices:

1. The unit catalogue tells you when the unit will be running (Academic year, Semester 1 or Semester 2) – please ensure that you choose units which will take place when you will be in Bath. It is not possible to join an academic year long unit for semester 2 only.
2. To reduce the risk of timetable clashes, we recommend that you choose the majority of your units from one year of one degree programme.
3. Your choice of units must be approved by an academic supervisor at your home institution and by our departmental coordinators here at Bath.
